Drummond Woodsum's Regulated Substances Practice Group assists manufacturers of highly regulated consumer products and those dealing with their businesses.

Cannabis

Changing public opinion and the laws pertaining to cannabis have created a large and vibrant marketplace for businesses interested in the cannabis sector, and those dealing with firms in the cannabis sector, such as landlords, municipalities, and investors. However, the legal rules governing the cannabis market are complex, fast changing, and contradictory. We assist cannabis related businesses to comply with applicable law and we counsel on the risks to participants in this emerging marketplace.

Cannabis Blog

Drummond Woodsum's Regulated Substances team has created a blog that focuses exclusively on Cannabis Law & Policy.
